

Anganvadi

The Department of Fisheries has played a proactive role in improving the infrastructure and functioning of Anganvadis across the coastal stretch, recognizing their importance in child development and community welfare. The interventions include construction and renovation of Anganvadi buildings, provision of essential furniture and play materials, establishment of kitchen facilities, and creation of child-friendly environments. These efforts have strengthened the delivery of nutrition, early education, and healthcare services to children and mothers in fishing villages, thereby contributing to the holistic development and well-being of coastal communities.
